Electronic Communication Disclaimer

Please keep in mind that communicating via Zoom and other teleconferencing programs, although HIPAA compliant, are not “secure”. Programs that are HIPAA compliant means that they meet certain technical criteria defined by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act. Below is a brief description of HIPAA.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, which is United States legislation that sets data privacy and security provisions for safeguarding medical information, such as medical records and other identifiable health information.

Although it is unlikely, there is a possibility that online communications can be intercepted by other parties besides the person with whom you are communicating. That said, the same applies to email, text, even telephone.

Your signature indicates you have read this information and agree to engage in therapy via Zoom as an alternative to in-person therapy sessions when meeting face to face is not feasible.
